Climate crises and environmental migration. Perspectives and innovative tools (Rionero in Vulture - PZ - from 4th to 8th of September 2023)

The City of Peace Foundation for Children Basilicata is organizing the Summer Academy 2023 entitled: Climate crises and environmental migration. Perspectives and innovative tools in Rionero in Vulture - PZ in the week of September from 4th to 8th, 2023)

This is the third edition, following those successfully held in 2019 and, after the break imposed by the pandemic, in 2022.

The program includes a theoretical part held by experts who will provide those who attend with the elements and knowledge understand the impacts of climate change on migration phenomena. In addition, a workshop will be organized with Mario Cucinella Architect to put into practice innovative methodologies for the creation of eco-sustainable housing for migrants, during which the creation of innovative projects will be experienced together with the accepted refugees and the local population.

Experts on climate change, innovators protagonists of projects for environmental sustainability, architects engaged in eco-sustainable projects and operators involved in reception projects will participate to discuss the issue that will directly or indirectly determine the future of migration: climate change-.

The most advanced experiences implemented nationally and internationally to counter climate change will also be examined by experimenting in educational workshops some possible interventions to be designed and implemented with the support of the Foundation and private sponsors.

For this reason, the City of Peace Summer Academy will take place in Rionero in Vulture (Pz) a small village in Basilicata where reception projects for refugees and asylum seekers promoted by the City of Peace Foundation chaired by Nobel Peace Prize winner Jody Williams have been active since 2014. together with Arci Basilicata.

The aim is to create a small social incubator able to bring participants into dialogue with the hosting context and provide the tools to establish a constructive confrontation within contemporary society, where the migrant should be considered as a bearer of uniqueness and new opportunities.

The City of Peace Summer Academy is open to people of all nationalities from 18 to 45 years of age who are interested in the phenomenon of migration and in particular reception workers, architects, researchers, video makers, students, and journalists. Knowledge of Italian and/or English is required for participation.
